Patient Runs Amok In Hospital Plunging Knife Into Six People

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Those that know him call him a nice, kind guy with a big heart, and a gentlemanly peculiar only to large men his size.

It was difficult to believe that Charles E. White, 36, was the man who went berserk and ran rampant through wing after wing of the hospital with a large knife — plunging it into anybody and anything that got in his way.

He stabbed and slashed six persons, besides himself, killing two and leaving two others in critical condition.

Police had to use tear gas, a shotgun and pistols before they got him handcuffed to a stretcher and in a strait-jacket.

His hospital pajamas were soaked with blood; his own and that of his victims. He was shot three times, once with a shotgun blast that tore an arm off. But it bothered him no more than a mosquito bite.

Each time police shot him, trying to knock the bloody hunting knife out of his hand, he looked at them and muttered: "Ashes to ashes and dust to dust."

Starts Quoting Scriptures

Nobody knows where or when the tragedy had its beginning. But the climax began unfolding Wednesday afternoon at the A. O. Smith Corp., a sprawling manufacturing plant on the outskirts of Houston where White worked as a machine operator.

"White, 6-1 and more than 200 pounds, was well liked by his fellow workers.

"Friendly as a kitten, but he could roughhouse with the best of them," one noted. "He loved a joke, either on himself or somebody else. If he had problems, nobody at the plant knew about them."

"But they knew something was wrong when he suddenly started quoting scriptures and singing hymns.

"What a friend we have in Jesus," he sang in a loud voice. They took him to the plant doctor, and the doctor called his wife and a family physician. On his advice, Mrs. White had his two brothers take him to Methodist Hospital, one of the units located in the $100 million Texas Medical Center, ranked as one of the top in treatment and research in the nation and world.

Knife Source Mystery

"We still don't know where he got the knife," said Glen Lanier, assistant administrator at the hospital.

The first hint of trouble Wednesday night was when Mrs. Ruth Gordon, 62, a vocational nurse, staggered to the double-locked doors which separate the six rooms for violent patients from the rest of the hospital.

Then she collapsed, blood spurting from her chest where White had driven the blade of his 11-inch knife to the hilt. James Emmett Newton, 62, an orderly, was dead.

"In the process of getting Mrs. Gordon out and down to surgery, White must have gotten out from the locked section," Lanier explained.

He rushed down the hallway quoting scriptures and singing. "Such is the sin of life," he mumbled and stabbed to death Mrs. Gladys Lucille Foreman, 49, a nurses aide. He ran into a surgical ward on the far side of the hospital and plunged the knife into the chest of Mrs. Edna Fuller, 45, medical supervisor of the floor.

He slashed the back of Otto Voight, 54, a patient who couldn't scramble off his bed as other patients had done, and slashed the throat of Miss Ann Porter, 21, a student nurse working on the desk. Neither were considered critically hurt.

Stubblefield Recognized In Talk Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The Kentucky Broadcasters Association opened its annual spring meeting today with a salute to a Kentucky pioneer in radio, special awards to five stations and an individual award to a farm broadcaster.

James L. Johnson, executive secretary of the Murray Chamber of Commerce, the first speaker at today's KBA session, praised the late Nathan B. Stubblefield, of Murray, as the inventor of radio.

Johnson, a Stubblefield historian has compiled much data on the scientific accomplishments of the Murray scientist in fields other than his early radio work.

A plaque was to be presented to Johnson recognizing Stubblefield as the first man actually to broadcast the human voice. The award is the first honoring Stubblefield made by the KBA, although a monument naming Stubblefield as the inventor of radio was erected many years ago at Murray.

The Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation 1961 Radio Award went to Drury (Dink) Embury, farm program director of stations WHOP and WRLX-FM, Hopkinsville, since 1949.

A Farm Bureau Press and Radio Association committee based the award to Embury, who has been in radio since 1934, on "the many significant contributions he has made toward improving farm and city people in Kentucky."

He will be presented a $100 check at the annual Farm Bureau meeting.

A native of Butler County, he began his radio career with Station WHAS, Louisville, and also worked in Nashville and Atlanta.

Trial Of Watson To Continue

DETROIT (UPI) — The Lassiter murder trial resumed today minus defendant Mrs. Nelle Lassiter.

Mrs. Lassiter was in Jennings Memorial Hospital, waiting transfer to Ionia State Hospital. There the shapely 39-year-old ex-model will remain until she is well enough to stand trial.

Circuit Judge Joseph G. Rash, acting on the recommendations of a three-man sanity commission ordered the murder defendant committed Wednesday.

Two of the psychiatrists on the commission said Mrs. Lassiter is suffering "extreme emotional instability" and was unable to assist in her own defense.

One of them said "there is a condition of hysteria present and this is a form of mental disease. This finding was disputed by Mrs. Lassiter's own physician, Dr. Ralph Johnson, a member of the commission.

He said there was no evidence (Continued on Page 6)

Military Junta Formally Takes Over Government

By CHARLES R. SMITH

United Press International
SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — The revolutionary military junta today formally took control of the Republic of Korea's government and opened a nationwide crackdown on Communists and fellow-travelers.

The junta sealed its victory in the struggle for power when Premier John M. Chang formally resigned his cabinet this morning and President Posun Yun declared his support for the revolution.

To consolidate their power, leaders of the junta expanded the revolutionary command from 5 to 32 members, including top officers from all the armed services.

Notably omitted, however, was Lt. Gen. Lee Han Lim, who was reported, without official confirmation, to have been relieved of his command of the 1st ROK Army guarding the front line against the North Korean Communist and placed under arrest.

Waits Too Long

Lee's three hour support behind the junta only after 48 hours of apparent indecision.

The junta had made anti-Communist one of its major policies and it lost no time in starting to carry out its objective.

Revolutionary authorities ordered a campaign against leftist-leaning Koreans throughout the nation. There was no indication how many were arrested.

The junta's victory came in spite of strong opposition from United States military and civil officials in Korea who had sought to restore Premier Chang's government in the early stages of the revolt.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman said there was no immediate comment and "I doubt if anything will be forthcoming soon."

Military Supports Coup

Earlier today, all of South Korea's top military leaders—army, air force, marine and navy—had met and voted support for the coup.

Premier Chang emerged this afternoon from two days in hiding, met with 8 of the 15 members of his cabinet and announced capitulation.

Chang looked tired and wan as he faced newsmen. Alongside him was Rook army chief of staff Lt. Gen. Chang Do Yung, chairman of the revolutionary committee which led the coup against what it called "corrupt and incapable" politicians.

"I, myself, and the cabinet have decided to resign, assuming moral and political responsibility for what has happened," the premier said.

"We hope the people will understand this decision. As we retire, it is our sincere hope that no bloodshed should come."

Gives Formal Approval

Shortly after this, President Yun issued a statement over Seoul radio giving his formal approval to the military junta and to martial law throughout the country.

"It is regrettable that a military revolution had to be staged in view of the present conditions of this nation," the president said. "I hope the patriotic revolution will provide momentum to save the difficult situation."

Yun said affairs of state would be handled by the revolutionary committee "for the time being, but I hope affairs of the state will be normalized as soon as possible."

He called on the nation to "resolutely support" the new regime.

In the first hours after the rebel troops moved into Seoul on Tuesday, Gen. Carter B. Magruder, commander of U. S. and United Nations troops in Korea, called publicly for support of the fallen Chang government. The U. S. Embassy backed him up. Even after the announcements by Chang and Yun today, they still were standing on that position.

To Submit Cabinet

The military junta, which already had declared dissolution of parliament, was expected to submit a new cabinet to the president for approval.

This was the second South Korean government to fall within 13 months under charges of corruption. President Syngman Rhee's government was toppled April 17, 1960, by weeks of students rioting over rigged elections.

If the military junta follows the plan it announced Tuesday, South Korea will swing even closer to the United States and the fight against communism, corruption and poverty will be stepped up.

Three Burned In Accident

Three men were seriously burned last night at the Ryan Milk Company as they were working on some equipment at the plant. A pan which is used to evaporate milk, containing hot water and alkali, apparently suddenly exploded, the door or opening of the pan being blown open.

The men were covered with the hot water and alkali with George Kukahiko, who was nearest the pan being the most severely burned. James Buchanan and Edward Chadwick were also burned.

One of the men, Chadwick, said last night that possible the pan was struck by lightning, but no marks of evidence to that effect could be found.

Plant officials were puzzled as to the cause of the accident.

The three were listed as in serious condition today at the Murray Hospital.

GLASGOW, Ky. (UPI) — An apparent low bid of $183,000 was submitted Wednesday on construction of administration buildings and a 3,000 foot paved runway for a new airport near here. The low bid was submitted by Wells & Wells Construction Co., Glasgow, on the $200,000 airport expected to be completed by next fall.

Postcard Survey Planned By Bell

All telephone customers in Murray will receive a post card from the telephone company next week, asking for their comments and criticisms of the telephone service and the company that provides it, according to Dan Johnston, local manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company.

Mr. Johnston calls the project a post card canvass. "In making the canvass, we'll mail each customer a double post card. The cards will be mailed next week and we hope that everyone will take a minute to fill out the return half of the card and mail it to me."

"We're not necessarily seeking compliments," the manager points out. "If any of our customers have criticisms, we would like to know them. Comments like these help us give customers the kind of service they want."

Similar post card canvasses are planned for many other areas where Southern Bell Telephone Company operates. The purpose is to find out which customers have complaints so that the company can try to remove the cause of these complaints.

"That's our most important job—giving customers the kind of service they desire," Johnston said. "We'll contact everyone who replies unfavorably and make every reasonable effort to clear up the source of their dissatisfaction."

Detroit's Success May Lie In The Ability Of Al Kaline And Rocky Colavito To Outhit Mantle And Roger Maris

By FRED DOWN

United Press International

Are Al Kaline and Rocky Colavito more than a match for Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris?

The answer so far this season is a roaring y-e-s and therein lies much of the story why the Detroit Tigers are out in front in the American League with a five-game lead over the New York Yankees.

There are other reasons — like pitcher Phil Regan, for example — but the team that beats the Yankees is going to have to have plenty of muscle. That's what Kaline and Colavito can give the Tigers in pennant-style this year.

Kaline and Colavito collaborated Wednesday night to make it look easy as the Tigers completed the demolition of the Baltimore Orioles' highly regarded pitching staff with a 9-1 rout that enabled them to open up a five-game AL lead. Kaline drove in three runs with a double and triple and Colavito knocked in two runs with two singles and a double for the Tigers who outscored the Orioles, 29 to 10, in the three-game sweep.

Out-Hitting Maris This 1-2 punch is reflected in up-to-date averages which show Kaline out-hitting Mantle, 315 to 307 and Colavito out-hitting Maris, 273 to 217. It comes out to a composite 299 mark for the Detroit stars and 264 for the New York aces with the 35 points that separate their combined averages significantly close to the 48 point separating the teams in the standings.

The Yankees were surprised for the second straight game Wednesday when the Washington Senators topped them, 8-7, while the Cleveland Indians beat the Boston

Red Sox, 1-0, in the other AL game. The San Francisco Giants shaded the Chicago Cubs, 4-3, the Pittsburgh Pirates edged out the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, the Cincinnati Reds beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-1, and the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Milwaukee Braves, 2-1, in 11 innings in the National League.

Regan, who had an 0-4 record for Detroit last season, pitched a six-hitter for his fourth straight win of 1961 as the Tigers handed the Orioles their fifth straight defeat. Brooks Robinson's fourth-inning homer produced the only run off Regan who has blossomed into a capable starter after being tabbed during spring training for relief duty.

Senators Sweep Yankees The surprising Senators swept their two-game series with the Yankees and increased their winning streak to five games with a 10-hit attack that included homers by Billy Klau and Pete Daley. Pete Burnside won his first game for Washington and Art Ditmar lost his second for New York.

Bobby Locke and Barry Latman combined in a six-hitter for the Indians who scored the game's only run off Bill Monbouquette when Vic Power slid home safely during a double play in the fifth inning. Monbouquette, who struck out 17 batters in his previous start, suffered his fourth loss.

Ed Bailey drove in three runs with a homer and single to lead the Giants to their fifth consecutive victory although the winning run actually scored when relief pitcher Don Elston yielded a bases-filled walk in the ninth. Stu Miller picked up his second win for the Giants who maintained their three-game NL lead.

Smokey Burgess' three-run batted in and Elroy Face's close-out relief in the eighth and ninth paved the way for Vinegar Bend Mizell to win his third game for the Pirates. Stan Musial had three hits for the Cardinals but they weren't enough to prevent Ernie Broglio from suffering his fourth loss of the season.

Reds Still Hot

The Reds scored their 10th victory in 14 games behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Purkey who also started Cincinnati's two-run third-inning rally with a walk. A double by Don Blasingame, a sacrifice fly and a double by Frank Robinson completed the rally against John Buzhardt. Tony Gonzalez homered for the Phillies' run.

Stan Williams walked 12 batters and struck out 11 in going the full 11-inning, four-hour and 15-minute distance for the Dodgers' victory. Relief pitcher Seth Morehead walked Bob Lillis with the bases filled in the 11th to force in the decisive run. Warren Spahn, who yielded a leadoff triple to Frank Howard in the 11th, suffered the loss.

COSTLY SMOKE

NEW YORK 478 — The To-

14-YEAR-OLD ELOPERS BACK—Everett Hale, daughter Cheryl Mae and Robert Coplin pause in Oakland, Calif., en route home from Hawaii to St. Louis after a merry chase that just had averted marriage of the two 14-year-olds. They had made their way to Honolulu, where Hale finally caught up with them via aid of agencies like the police. Hale said he doesn't oppose marriage eventually, but thinks it's too early now.

Kirksey Senior 4-H Club Has Meeting

The Kirksey Junior Sixth Grade 4-H Club held their last meeting on May 11th. The meeting was called to order by president William Ross.

Georgia Potts led the pledge to the American Flag and Phyllis Darnell led the 4-H pledge to the flag. Donna Hall read the devotion. A song was led by Phyllis Darnell and Billy Wilson. Roll call was given by the secretary, Nona Bazzell, and the minutes of the last meeting were read.

The president turned the meeting over to vice-president Roger Mitchell who was in charge of the program. Those who took part in the program were: Jeffrey Broach, Mac Adams, La Jean Paschall, Kenneth Greer and Billy Wilson.

Mr. Sims showed a film about 4-H camp and Washington, which everyone enjoyed. The boys and girls have enjoyed 4-H club work this past year and are looking forward to another year.

We should like to thank Mr. Sims, Mrs. Wrather, Mrs. Bazzell, the radio, and the paper who have been so kind to us. We would also like to thank our parents who let us participate in 4-H our leaders and everyone who has helped in some way.

of mental disorder and that the blonde beauty needed only a long rest for "nervous exhaustion."

Mrs. Lassiter lay listless on her hospital bed but sobbed occasionally during the hearing. She collapsed in a court corridor Monday and has been hospitalized since.

Rashid declared a mistrial in her case, but ordered the trial of her co-defendant Gordon Watson continued. Watson and Mrs. Lassiter were accused of hiring three men to kill her auto dealer husband, Parvin, two years ago. Three men — Roy Hicks, Richard Jones and Charles Nash, all of Chattanooga, Tenn., pleaded guilty to second-degree murder for the actual shooting and are serving life sentences.

Nash was called as a prosecution witness when the trial resumed after Mrs. Lassiter's commitment but refused to take the stand or be sworn.

Rashid found him guilty of contempt of court but said he was powerless to enforce the order. Jones, when called as a witness, invoked the Fifth Amendment.

Nash and Jones have filed motions for a new trial, contending their guilty pleas were made under duress. Hicks was slated to be the next witness in the case against Watson.

WORKING WOMEN

BURLINGTON, Iowa (UP) — The perennial image of the housewife sitting home and doing the housework is slowly disappearing.

Twenty-three million women or more than one-third of all women over 14 years of age, are at work, according to the National Research Bureau, Inc.
